

STRONG GOVERNANCE AT ALL LEVELS

ACCOUNTABILITY AND INTEGRITY are at the heart of our organization and are critical to conducting secure, reliable and ethical business.

Rigorous Company Oversight

WhiteWater maintains strong governance protocols across all our businesses with oversight from company executives, investors and independent advisors who have extensive industry experience. In addition to ensuring responsible governance, comprehensive financial controls and upholding high ethical standards, all board members and leadership receive regular updates and oversight of our environmental, social, and governance reporting initiatives.

Ensuring Physical and Digital Asset Security

Data privacy, cyber security, and the physical security of our pipeline infrastructure are paramount to our ability to operate in a safe and secure manner. As such, we continue to invest in the latest technologies to provide additional layers of protection to our physical and digital assets from outside threats. For that reason, our external continuous monitoring and outside threat prevention services make our data verifiably more secure. To further promote a positive culture of accountability, WhiteWater invests in its employees through both rigorous cyber threat training and sponsors an employee rewards program for reporting suspicious phishing attempts.

Conducting Business with Integrity

In addition to regular business and ethics training, all employees certify they have read and agree to comply with the company handbook, which contains our Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct. This details our legal and ethical expectations and procedures for confidentiality, conflicts of interest, foreign anti-corruption practices, customer, supplier and competitor relations and other key pillars that are critical to instilling integrity across all facets of our business operations. Looking across our supply chain, WhiteWater requires all suppliers to sign-off on codes of ethical business conduct as part of all our construction and service agreements, so that everyone we do business with is also held accountable to the highest ethical business standards.

Industry Affiliations Drive Best Practices

WhiteWater is a member of multiple state and nationally-focused industry groups that promote coordination and collaboration among our peers on topics that matter to our investors, customers and our communities. Through these partnerships we share knowledge on new technologies, evolving best practices, issues and concerns in our communities, environmental goals and climate initiatives including the latest methane emissions reduction strategies to help us drive innovative solutions for a lower carbon energy future.
